DEMOCRATS TO BURY HAMMER AND BUY HORN

Incipient Revolt in Party Ranks Is Squelched by Cooler Heads.

GIVE OPPONENTS A CHANCE

Public Opinion Is Against Great Political Activity at This Time.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921)

Washington—Democracy has had its little revolt and has squelched it. There will be no meeting of the entire membership of the Democratic national committee at this time nor will there be any political move made that may be interpreted by the public as a large as the beginning of a campaign of carping criticism of Warren Harding's administration.

Canvass of the individual members of the executive committee of nineteen summoned by George White, Democratic national chairman, revealed a distinct aversion to active party campaigning at this time and a general feeling that the present was no occasion for the upbuilding of a Democratic offensive.

Eager To Criticize

The Democratic revolt is traceable to two or three overzealous and over-eager friends of William G. McAdoo. These men—among them Robert Woolley, former interstate commerce commissioner, and Thomas Love, national committee member from Texas, both of whom were active for McAdoo at San Francisco and seemed to think the present was an opportune moment to capture the party machinery. They had the idea that the party welfare demanded a reorganization, that the last campaign was more or less of a fiasco and that advantage had been taken of the mistakes which they as Democrats foresaw as inevitable when the Republicans begin to tackle the problems of the country from the role of critics to the desks of responsibility. So Messrs. Love and Woolley sent out telegraphic messages to the entire membership of the Democratic national committee urging a full meeting and a constructive program. Authorization to sign such a request came from more than a majority of the committee but when Messrs. Love and Woolley drafted the request for a meeting and sent it on to George White the phraseology used was objectionable to many of the members of the committee who had originally authorized a pointed hint to Mr. White that his resignation was expected. Accordingly the issue became more or less personal and many signatures were promptly withdrawn.

DUBLIN SCoured FOR SINN FEINERS

Great Section of Irish City Is Isolated While Troops Search Houses.

By United Press Leased Wire
Dublin.—A great man hunt was in full swing in Dublin Friday.

A whole section of the city, on the north side, was cut off by troops who rushed into it in armored cars. Throughout the early morning hours the neighborhood resounded with the roar of motors, the thump of gun butts against barred doors and shouts of command.

EXPECTS STORK: PRISONER FREE

Chicago.—Robert J. Green, postal clerk, charged with rifling the mails, was released on his own recognizance Friday by Federal Judge K. M. Landis when it developed that his wife had just given birth to a child.

Girl Bride Is New Corner In Old Triangle

By United Press Leased Wire.
Denver, Colo.—A strange twist of the "eternal triangle" was revealed here Friday when the 16-year-old bride of Lawrence Kelley, alleged forger who is held at Boulder, Colo., told officials she was not the girl whom Kelley thought he was marrying.

She married Kelley three days ago under the name of "Mildred Gardner." Later she said her name was Dolly Green, a former New York chorus girl.

The real Mildred Gardner, according to the girl, is in San Francisco working for a magazine. She calls herself Dolly Green, Mrs. Kelley said. "We traded lives, sweethearts and identity," the child bride told police.

MADMAN KILLED TEACHERS, NEW POLICE THEORY

Dogs Lose Trail of Fence Rail Slayer After Tracking Him to Woods.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Cleveland, O.—The theory that a madman killed Miss Louise Wolfe, 38, and Miss Mabel Foote, 24, school teachers whose mangled bodies were found on Bean road about half a mile from Parma high school, where they taught, was advanced by detectives Friday.

Indications pointed to a desperate struggle between the teachers and their slayer.

The ground was torn up for scores of feet around the spot where the bodies were found.

The slayer used a small fence rail and rained dozens of blows on the heads and bodies of the victims. The condition of the ground and the bodies indicated that the teachers fought heroically to save each other from the madman's attack.

The bodies were not found until Thursday morning when children on the way to school stumbled over the remains.

Hundreds of policemen, detectives, deputy sheriffs and farmers armed with shotguns and pistols hunted the dense woods. The tracks of the slayer were plainly visible in the mud and led from the scene of the killing into the woods where they were lost. Police dogs were brought to the scene, but they were unable to pick up the scent.

Two bareheaded men seen walking from the scene of the killing Wednesday evening were hunted by police, who at first believed the women were attacked by tramps. No trace of the two could be found.

There were various rumors as to identity of the Sinn Feiners sought but it was generally understood that "General" Michael Collins of the Irish republican army, was hiding in the vicinity. Collins who was recently reported killed in battle but reappeared shortly afterwards, was reported to have entered Dublin for a council of war.

TAX RETURNS WILL BE KEPT FROM PUBLIC

Must Charge Fraud in Order to Get Peek at Returns in Assessor's Office.

BATTLE OVER LAW SCHOOL

Marquette University Wins First Tilt With Wisconsin in Assembly.

Income tax returns will continue to violate except where affidavits of fraud are filed, according to an amendment adopted by the senate judiciary committee to the Severson surtax bill.

The bill, as presented, did away with all secrecy in connection with income tax returns. As amended an affidavit expressing belief that fraud has been practiced on the state will be necessary before publicity can be given returns.

The fight between the law departments of the Wisconsin and Marquette universities, waged for eight years, resulted in an initial victory for the Milwaukee institution in the assembly Friday.

By a vote of 50 to 37 the assembly voted to advance the Schafer bill to third reading and engrossment. The bill requires law graduates of the state university to take the state bar examinations.

The bill was debated for more than one hour by the lawyers of the assembly. The farmers looked on with amused interest and most of them voted for the bill when Assemblyman Ben Mahon, Milwaukee, made a dramatic plea for "a square deal for all and special privilege to none."

The assembly debated the Johnson bill providing for the taxing of precious jewels as personal property. The report of the committee recommending the bill for passage was supported 75 to 10 on roll call.

The plan of the assembly to adjourn Saturday until the following Wednesday was upset when the senate returned the joint resolution on the subject to the house without concurrence.

The Matheron prohibition enforcement bill, after playing hide and seek in the pockets of the state affairs committee chairman and bill's author, was reported to the assembly with recommendations for indefinite postponement.

Much juggling has marked the pathway of this bill. The dry leaders heard the wets intended to move that the measure be laid on the table. The report was withheld until an agreement was reached to open up the fight on the floor next Thursday.

By a vote of 49 to 21, the assembly killed the emergency appropriation of $10,000 to the Milwaukee rent board recommended by the joint finance committee. Unless there is a reconsideration, the rent board will have to go out of existence the first of the month.

The Wiettenhiller bill bringing Wisconsin people married outside of the state under the eugenic law of the state, recommended for death by the judiciary committee, was advanced to third reading by the assembly.

The senate adopted the Buck bill providing for an extension of time to real estate taxpayers upon request from March 1 to July 1, this year.

Toledo, Ohio.—Additional arrests were made Friday in the hunt for the five bandits who robbed several post-office employees of six sacks of registered mail at the postoffice driveway yesterday.

Police admitted the prisoners did not include the men wanted.

Postal officials said the loss is not as great as it was at first believed. Two of the pouches came from a Baltimore and Ohio train, one came from Detroit and the other from Washington.

The postmaster's first estimate placed the loss at between $300,000 and $1,000,000.

POLICEMAN CHARGED WITH SLAYING FIGHTER

Cleveland.—Patrolman Walter Glowacki, 24, was held in jail here Friday pending investigation of the killing here last night of Anthony Nagodny, prize fighter, known in the ring as "Cuppy Logan."

Extra Car Is Provided For Local Service

A. K. Ellis Declares Extra Car to Junction Has Long Been in Service.

"If the persons who signed the complaint that street car service to Appleton Junction is inadequate, filed with the Wisconsin railroad commission, had exercised ordinary observation they would have noticed that the condition of which they complain was remedied nearly two months ago," said A. K. Ellis, superintendent of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. No formal complaint had been lodged with the company regarding the service nor had any of the petitioners, so far as he knew, made an effort to discuss the matter with him, Mr. Ellis also said.

"Extra street car service to Appleton Junction was started in December," Mr. Ellis declared. "A car waits at the intersection of College and Oneida street every evening until after the 5:45 car starts for the junction. If the regular car is unable to comfortably accommodate all the passengers the extra car is pressed into service. Old and experienced employees are in charge of this and they will not permit overcrowding in the regular car. During the month of January there was little demand for the extra car but in February it was in use several times."

The company's records show the extra car was used on the following days: Jan. 16, Jan. 20, Jan. 21, Feb. 2, Feb. 8, Feb. 10, Feb. 11, Feb. 14, Feb. 15, Feb. 16.

Mr. Ellis said it will be a difficult matter to prove overcrowding in the regular car because official records show the exact number of passengers carried on each trip.

Exception was also taken to the statement that the fare from Buffalo to Niagara Falls, 23 miles, is 75 cents for cash and only 12 cents for tickets. Mr. Ellis said he has been unable to find a record of such a fare. Local rates in Buffalo are 7 cents cash and 4 cents for tickets.

JUDGE M'GANNON IS ACQUITTED BY JURY

Cleveland Justice Wins Freedom After Second Trial on Murder Charge.

By United Press Leased Wire
Cleveland.—A verdict of not guilty was returned by the jury Friday in the second trial of Judge William H. McGannon, charged with the murder of Harold C. Kagy here last May.

It was McGannon's second trial. The first ended in a disagreed jury.

Kagy was shot and fatally wounded shortly after midnight of May 7 on a street corner. John W. Joyce said he remembered hearing McGannon and Kagy arguing just prior to the shooting.

Other witnesses including several policemen, testified that Joyce was drunk and leaning against a pole when they hurried to the scene after the shooting. Several identified McGannon as the "big man" seen hurrying from the scene.

Miss Mary E. Neely, practical nurse, chief witness for the state refused to testify to essential details at the second trial. She also declared from the stand several times that "Judge McGannon is not guilty of the murder of Harold Kagy."

McGannon announced he would resume his place as chief justice of the municipal courts from which he voluntarily absented himself shortly after he was indicted.

RACINE ROCKED BY GAS PLANT BLAST

Racine, Wis.—An explosion in the engine and compressing rooms of the Wisconsin Gas and Electric company at 4:30 Friday morning caused a property loss of upward of $100,000 the injury of one man and the shutting off of all gas supply in Racine, South Milwaukee, Cudahy and intermediate points, as all are served from the local plant, may be able to operate a small plant there.

The cause of the explosion is as yet unknown. It rocked the entire city, completely wrecking the engine and compressing rooms and shattered windows in buildings within a radius of four blocks.

The following new directors were named: Mr. Steinberg, Thomas B. Pecterman, Curtis; Henry S. Kiefe, Racine; J. R. Schuster, Beloit. Other directors are Mr. Crumpton, Mr. Apker, J. W. Miller, Milwaukee; Mr. Genske and C. B. Chapman, Madison.

U. S. FALTERS AS NATION SETS BACK FOR IDES OF MARCH

All Government Offices Hampered Because of Change in Administration.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The government Friday was at the climax of uncertainty and indecision which inevitably accompanies a change in administration. The treasury department foreign loans have been stopped and machinery which determines policy on this matter has been halted until the inauguration of President-elect Harding.

Future of prohibition enforcement hangs in the balance, pending the nomination of the man who is to succeed Commissioner Kramer.

Both officialdom and the nation's business await the appointment of the internal revenue bureau head.

The state department keenly observes a number of recent world events, including the allied naming of the German reparations sum, but declines to remain out of the picture, so far as an official expression of American policy is concerned, because of disinclination to embarrass the incoming administration. Soviet Russia, the Japanese question and Mexico are shelved.

The shipping board is deferring decision on matters which effect the future of America's merchant marine and are pressing for immediate action because the new government may "do it differently."

Diplomats with a republican leaning are back from their posts, seeking choicer appointments from their own party. Every train into the capitol carries eager candidates for government offices. Lobbyists have received reinforcements preparing for a new drive on a new government.

"Wait 'till after the Ides of March"—that is the Washington watchword today.

CARUSO IS NOW ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Enrico Caruso is "distinctly improved," the noon bulletin by the singer's physicians said Friday.

The bulletin read: "Mr. Caruso had a good night and is distinctly improved this morning. The rumors of operations done or to be done are based on false information."

Dr. Francis J. Murray and Antonio Stella will remain subject to call from the Caruso apartment. The other three will not attend the patient unless called into consultation.

The tone of the physician's bulletin as well as the unofficial reports of visitors to the apartment confirmed the belief that Caruso is vastly improved.

Smooth Crook Makes Raid On Chicago Purses

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Taxi drivers wondered Friday what had become of the "oil king" who used to tip them with $100 bills. Men, given prominent mention in the social register and Dun's, were wondering exactly the same thing.

Police, attorneys and others were searching for Henry B. S-well, who, according to authorities, disappeared leaving business men holding the sack to the extent of about $200,000.

This is how he did it according to police.

Moved right next door to Mayor Thompson and won friendships in high places.

Purchased gasoline at the market price and resold it from three to seven cents less to large customers. The gasoline was delivered in wagons of the Standard Oil company and Sinclair company.

After establishing a reputation as a miracle man, collected $500,000 in advance from customers and passed out of the picture.

LABOR UNIONS AND 10 STATES ATTACK RAILWAY STATUTE

Congress May Have to Revise Act at Special Session Scheduled for March.

Washington.—The next congress, which meets soon after March 4, will have to rewrite the transportation act, if the double-headed drive being carried on against the law is successful.

One attack is made by twenty states which hold that the sections of the act giving the interstate commerce commission power over intrastate as well as interstate rates make it unconstitutional. They will carry their fight to supreme court.

Another attack is by organized labor, which has never lessened its opposition to the principles involved in the labor clause of the act, although it has agreed to abide by them. The executive council of the American Federation of Labor meets here a week from today and some new pronouncement against the transportation act may come at that time.

While the state officials attacking the act complain chiefly of the conflict of federal and state authority involved, they also intend to take in other features.

RICH NEW YORKER SLAYS POLICEMAN

Clubman Declares Shooting in His Office Was in Self-defense.

New York.—Charles T. Davis, wealthy clubman, calm and smiling, was arraigned in police court Friday on a charge of murdering Detective Sergeant Joseph Bridgetts.

He was held without bail for hearing Feb. 23.

Davis who shot and killed Bridgetts yesterday when the detective entered his office in Brooklyn, probably will plead self-defense. He wounded Detective E. T. McGlone and George W. Moran, an insurance adjuster, at the same time he killed Bridgetts.

Some time ago Davis, who is president of Davis and Geck, surgical instrument manufacturers, informed police his automobile had been stolen. He collected insurance.

Police say they found he had sold the car for $1,000. Bridgetts, McGlone and Moran went to his office to question him. Witnesses said Bridgetts entered the private office, but staggered out in a minute crying: "He is killing me."

Davis remained calm and when police arrived fifteen minutes later they found him at his desk directing the clearing up of the office. He admitted the shooting, police said, and declared he had fired in self defense. He refused to answer questions, however, merely remarking to the prosecuting attorney that it was "a sad affair."

FARMERS WANT TO BE FIRST IN CONGRESS

Washington, D. C.—Representatives of five million organized farmers now in conference here went to the capitol Friday to bring pressure on congress to put through the farm protection program before adjournment.

Friends of the farmers in both houses may be asked to begin a filibuster against all legislation except that demanded by the farmers unless quick action comes on the farm program, it was said Friday.

The farmers want immediate passage of the Gronna-Haugen bill to regulate the meat packers and on the Capper-Volstead bill to protect farm cooperative movements against anti-trust laws.

"If a filibuster ever is justifiable, now is the time," said Charles S. Barrett, president of the National Board of Farm Organizations Friday.

The farmers want cheaper fertilizer and are preparing to demand that the agricultural department employ its war time powers to force down prices for the export of fertilizer.

Bede Entertains And Instructs Realtors In Rousing Banquet Talk

Former Minnesota Congressman Advises Convention Delegates to Help Provide Homes for American People—Talk Filled With Humor.

No greater climax was ever reached in a convention of the Wisconsin Association of Real Estate Agents than the banquet in Hotel Appleton Thursday evening. Its program was excellent from start to finish, with some of Lawrence conservatory's best talent providing entertainment, and with addresses by Dr. Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence college, and Congressman J. Adam Bede, Minnesota. Retiring officers and officers-elect were honored and several gifts were presented.

Every available foot of space in the main dining room was taken up by the vast audience of realtors and their wives and guests. The banquet was served, followed by a treat in the form of pie a la mode with a rich, juicy cherries furnished from a Doer county orchard owned by Charles R. Cady, Green Bay, a director of the association.

Gustave Koller acted as toastmaster, cleverly introducing each speaker. Dr. Plantz was given an ovation when he was presented. He spoke briefly, saying his address was only a forerunner of the address by Mr. Bede for the purpose of furnishing a contrast that would make the latter's address all the more appreciated. He said he liked realtors because they were good Americans; were public spirited and did a good social service in making this a nation of home owners.

Realtors left the convention hall with aching sides after they heard Mr. Bede. Every concrete statement he wished to make on his subject of "What is the Matter with the World?" was preceded by a barrage of wit that kept the audience in an uproar.

Got Wrong Start

"What is the matter with this world?" he asked. "Why, the old world got started wrong, that's all. Adam was a real estate man. He tried to file a homestead over a timber claim. Real estate men have a duty to society. I have lived in the old boom times and I know something about the problems of this business. I can remember when they built street cars for folks up around Duluth and later carried hay on them."

United States is not a nation of home owners, Mr. Bede declared. There are more than twenty million families and less than six million own their homes. This is a nation of tenants not owners and it is up to the real estate men to make America a home owning nation again.

Regulation of rents and building activities might help, Mr. Bede said, but he believed it better to let things take their course for fear to depend on society and public sentiment to prevent unfair conditions and profiteering.

Hurry up Building

"Where are the millions who ought to own homes?" continued the speaker. "They are sleeping in limousines or in the movie houses. Twenty-five million people are unhoused. Many are sleeping in woodsheds, attics, basements or other places. They are not housed on the American plan. With that immigration is coming in, it will take us five years to catch up. All of you must hurry up this program as much as you can."

The world is plastic, and may be moulded aright if the nations will strike while the iron is hot. Today is the most important day of all history. Never was such a time presented for mankind possessed with leadership to serve its fellow men.

Extravagance was scored by Mr. Bede. He said nations run in debt and set the example for the rest of the people. They see so much money they get careless. During the war money got so cheap everyone thought he was a millionaire. He said he had been using his influence to tell everyone to hold on to his dollars now, and he had also helped the real estate men by urging them to buy homes. Wastefulness of the public has made thousands of new millionaires.

"The great trouble is that we are long on limousines and short on wheelbarrows and manure spreaders," Mr. Bede said. "That's what's the matter with the world."

Depend on Each Other

Men were independent of each other in the days of the backwoods farm and the spinning wheel, the speaker declared, but this is not so today. No factor in the great industrial union of the country can withdraw and let the public suffer any more than a state can withdraw from the union.

"Men took a fall out of the wheat with a flail in the old days," he said. "Then came the threshing machine and the farmer ate straw and dust. Soon somebody invented the fan and blower by which the chaff was forced out of the way by hot air, just as they run politics in Chicago."

"My mother raised ten children. She had ten so she could keep track of them by the decimal system. People are not using the decimal system as much as they used to. That's a thing that is wrong with the world."

Need More Culture

Culture was urged by the speaker as an important asset for people. Unless an idle man has culture, he cannot find leisure. Leisure becomes idleness; idleness becomes degeneracy. The day will come, he believes, when every high school will teach college courses, and colleges will take only those wanting post-graduate courses. Culture must be taken to the people.

People must stop hating each other and nations must do the same, Mr. Bede continued. He took why the Non-Partisan league took root in North Dakota, blaming it to the day-light saving law. Farmers couldn't work until noon, and did their hardest work in the heat of the day.

EAGER FOR FARM COURSE IN H. S.

Outagamie County Men Indorse Principal Rasey's Newest Project.

Prof. Lee C. Rasey struck a popular note when he proposed to the farmers at the recent meeting in the vocational school that a course in agriculture be added to the high school curriculum.

Farmers like the idea and there are many in various parts of the county who will lend their hearty support.

LOCAL RISK MEN GO TO STATE MEETINGS

Two national figures in the insurance world are to speak at the sales congress and banquet in Milwaukee Saturday, conducted by the Milwaukee Association of Life Underwriters.

Almost every Appleton life insurance office will be represented because it is considered a rare opportunity to hear these speakers.

Orville Thorpe, president of the National Association of Life Underwriters, is to speak on "Business Insurance, with Special Reference to Life Insurance to the Reinforce American Credits." Charles W. Scoville, past president, speaks on "Life Insurance to Provide a Monthly Income for the Family and Insured's Old Age."

The speakers will appear in the auditorium of the Northwestern Mutual Life building. Barney Pearson, noted insurance salesman, is also on the program for a talk on the "Selling Process."

An informal stag banquet is to close the day's events, taking place at 6:30 in the fern room of Hotel Pfister. There will be a musical program and after dinner speakers.

FOURTH BIRTHDAY OF LOCAL CHURCH

Trinity English Lutheran Congregation to Observe Anniversary.

Special services will be held in First English Lutheran church Sunday, Feb. 20, in commemoration of the fourth anniversary of the dedication of the building. The Rev. F. C. Reuter, pastor, will preach in the morning and the Rev. G. E. Kuhlman of Oshkosh, will preach at the evening service.

A special offering for the church building fund will be taken at both services.

The church was dedicated Feb. 18, 1917, during the pastorate of the Rev. P. W. Nesper. Last May, the parish hall serving as an addition to the main auditorium, was built. During the last four years there has been a steady growth of the church and the services have been so well attended that it was often necessary to use parish hall to accommodate the people.

Depend on Each Other

Men were independent of each other in the days of the backwoods farm and the spinning wheel, the speaker declared, but this is not so today. No factor in the great industrial union of the country can withdraw and let the public suffer any more than a state can withdraw from the union.

"Men took a fall out of the wheat with a flail in the old days," he said. "Then came the threshing machine and the farmer ate straw and dust. Soon somebody invented the fan and blower by which the chaff was forced out of the way by hot air, just as they run politics in Chicago."

"My mother raised ten children. She had ten so she could keep track of them by the decimal system. People are not using the decimal system as much as they used to. That's a thing that is wrong with the world."

Need More Culture

Culture was urged by the speaker as an important asset for people. Unless an idle man has culture, he cannot find leisure. Leisure becomes idleness; idleness becomes degeneracy. The day will come, he believes, when every high school will teach college courses, and colleges will take only those wanting post-graduate courses. Culture must be taken to the people.

People must stop hating each other and nations must do the same, Mr. Bede continued. He took why the Non-Partisan league took root in North Dakota, blaming it to the day-light saving law. Farmers couldn't work until noon, and did their hardest work in the heat of the day.

REALTORS MUST TAKE ACTION IN TAXATION MATTERS

Real Estate Owners Are Not Organized to Combat Tax Frauds.

Attracted to the complexity of the state and local taxation laws by the anxiety and losses they cause to widows who have property thrown upon their care, C. D. Moffat, Minneapolis, took an interest in taxation laws and reforms and gave the study to the subject. Some able ideas on this subject were presented to the convention of the Wisconsin Association of Real Estate Brokers in Elk hall Thursday afternoon, the result of his long study. "I believe that all arbitrary penalties should be wiped off the statute books and that all delinquent taxes should go on the records at straight 7 per cent interest. This would do away with a large number of gentlemen who make their living by the distresses of their fellow citizens," Mr. Moffat declared.

It was stated by the speaker that 60 per cent of the nation's wealth is in real estate. Owners of real estate either organized or unorganized have never made a demand upon any government in reference to taxation. They have quietly paid the demands made upon them, honorably and patriotically. Organized business such as public service corporations of the old type, trading institutions and manufacturers have for 50 years colored the tax policy of the United States by exemptions in their favor, he stated.

Time to Wake Up
Bushel taxes on grain handled by elevators was referred to by the speaker as an example. He said other business was alert and it was time for real estate men to match wits with them in these matters.

Mr. Moffat discussed in detail the reasons for a gross sales or turnover tax as a relief for the menace of higher national taxation. He urged this as a proper function for the National Association of Real Estate Boards and the National Association of Building Owners and Managers. Business taxes it because it has several cardinal virtues of a good tax. It is simple, has equitable universality, is privately ascertainable by the taxpayer and abundantly productive. The speaker declared that it would not be too widely spread and quoted results of this form of tax in operation for years in Philippine Islands.

The gross sales tax has been declared impossible, Mr. Moffat asserted, but said there was no cause for believing this true. He believed that once it became a fact it would be proven possible and also would be highly satisfactory.

Oppose Ralston Bill
Realtors were asked to oppose the Ralston-Nolan bill in congress, proposing to tax the right to use, own and occupy land in 10,000 units and over annually of 1 per cent. It was a scheme to shift the burden to the poor man and should be prevented, Mr.

Parcels for Norway
A parcel post convention between United States and Norway has resulted in a new ruling increasing the weight limit of packages sent to the latter country from 11 to 22 pounds. Full indemnity is also to be paid on lost registered parcels, not to exceed 50 francs, or $9.65.

Moffat said. Reduction of the surtax on incomes would make the mortgage money market normal, he also contended.

Another proposition needing remedial legislation was the treasury ruling that property sold since March, 1913 was to be figured at its new sale value in computing income tax, while the profit is otherwise distributed over each year from 1913. The new profit should also be distributed, he said. Economy in government and state were pointed out as a distinct need these days, and there should be some way to provide local tax surveys with outside financial assistance.

"President-elect Harding probably is contemplating a special session beginning in April," said the speaker, "and we hope to be ready with our statement of demands and our reasons upon which they are based."

Association of Real Estate brokers at Elk hall Wednesday afternoon. He said something must be done to overcome the wide dissatisfaction among farmers. Accepting immigrants only for farms was urged.

Quoting from his investigation of farming conditions in Iowa while on a recent visit, the speaker said the average farmer cannot make a decent income on his investment. He quoted instances where farmers had made so small profits that they were wasting their time.

People had invested money in land in Illinois, southern Wisconsin and Iowa on a basis of 3-dollar wheat and dollar and a half corn, expecting that these conditions would be perpetuated. They have been disillusioned. Wisconsin sent only 60,000 additional people to the farmer in 10 years, Mr. Peterman said, quoting from the United States census. This could be remedied by sending immigrants to the farm and the new bill in congress should provide for this.

High taxes were affecting land values, Mr. Peterman said. He mentioned an Iowa farmer who was taxed $6,200 for road building, apportioned in such a way that the man had to pay $1,400 a year. Then the state built a drainage district through his farm for which he was assessed another $3,800. Wisconsin taxes had increased 300 per cent over a few years ago in some places. This could be reduced, the speaker stated, by reducing the number of county officials. Iowa counties are run with 5 per cent of the number required in Wisconsin.

Highway construction should be borne by the man getting the benefit of roads, he said. Each auto owner ought to pay $100 a year tax for roads, and drivers of Pierce Arrows, Cadillacs and other luxurious cars should pay from $500 to $700. The man who can afford a car can afford to pay for good roads.

He believed farmers would be helped if England could pay her debt in long term bonds. European countries should be financed so they can buy farm products. This would create a demand, prices would go up and land values accordingly.

"A readjustment is coming," said Mr. Peterman. "Farmers are going back on the basis where the land owner can make an honest living and the owner an honest return on his investment."

ITALIANS BATTLE FOR "LITTLE ITALY" CONTROL
Milwaukee, Wis.—The shooting of Peter Cannali, 31-year-old Italian, last night is thought by police Thursday to be the start of a war over control of the Third Ward of the city, known as "Little Italy."

Cannali was shot while sitting in the kitchen of his home, the shot being fired through the window, shattering his arm. He is in a critical condition and amputation of the arm may be necessary.

The recent death of the acknowledged "king of the district and fight for the naming of the new leader, detectives say, may be responsible for the shooting. Three factions are said to exist in the district and each is striving for leadership.

THE TARIFF BILL

Perhaps the real reason why the senate passed the emergency tariff bill, which few want and still fewer defend, was because it knew the measure would be vetoed by the president. Almost without exception the Republican press throughout the country has denounced the bill. Prominent party newspapers like the New York Herald and the Chicago Tribune have labeled the proposal "indefensible."

The bill, drawn by Cong. Fordney whose ideas of a tariff wall around the United States reach to the blue sky, was conceived as a scheme to aid the farmer, the cotton and wool producer, cattle raiser, dairy and other interests. The insincerity of the plan lies in the fundamental fact that the United States is an exporter and not an importer of many of the staple products sought to be protected by duty. It completely ignores economic laws which fix the prices of commodities dealt in internationally, and offers to the agricultural interests of the United States hope of benefits which are wholly unlikely to be realized.

The measure was evolved practically without hearings and bears no scientific relation to supply and demand. It assumes to arbitrarily assess the people of this country a certain tax for food products to compensate for the loss of European markets and the breaking down of European credits. Congress might with the same propriety levy a tax upon the people to compensate manufacturers for the losses they have taken because of extinguished markets and credit paralysis.

If it were a fact that importations were ruining American markets and were responsible for excessive agricultural liquidation it would be a different matter. It is true that the farmers have been hard hit—harder hit, we think, in one year than any other class, but the lack of a protective tariff was not the reason. It was not foreign products that imposed this heavy loss upon American farmers. The causes may be found nearer at home.

The enactment of the Fordney bill as written would give every profiteer in the country an excuse to levy tribute upon the consumer. It would at least theoretically raise prices, but the farmer would not share in the increase. He never does where price determination or price fixing is at that end of the chain. The president will be amply justified in vetoing the bill and the vote by which it was passed shows that it cannot be forced over his veto.

Whatever tariff legislation we have should go over to the new congress and it should be subjected to the most thorough and searching investigation and analysis. It is apparent that the priests of ultra protection have their eyes on a policy of commercial exclusion, a program which at this time and in view of Europe's prostrated finances and industrial convalescence would be most unwise, unjust and unsound.

WOOD FOR THE PHILIPPINES

It is reported that President Harding will send Gen. Leonard Wood to the Philippines to "strengthen the lines" of American defense there. If the United States is to retain possession of the Philippine Islands indefinitely no better man could be found for this task than Gen. Wood, although the fact is that American defense in that quarter must rest primarily, if not entirely, upon the navy.

The time has arrived when the United States ought to relinquish the Philippine Islands. We believe public opinion in this country is overwhelmingly in favor of the step. The Philippines themselves are ready and anxious to assume the responsibilities of self-government. Not only do they believe themselves capable of constructive administration of their affairs, but of preserving their liberties against exterior aggression. Of course we all realize that if Japan wants the Philippine Islands she will acquire them sooner or later. The United States could hardly afford to defend the islands in case of war, and if there is to be no war we are under obligations to give them up and let the Philippines shift for themselves. Once we are out it is of no further concern to us what becomes of the islands, at least no political concern. There might be humanitarian considerations that would lead us to intervene in their behalf, but that would be all.

Gen. Wood can serve his country much better at home than in the Philippine Islands. He would be an asset to the Harding cabinet, along with Hoover, Lowden, Root and others whom the politicians are doing their best to exclude from places of influence in the new administration.

STRONG MILITARY POLICY

Dispatches from Florida say that President Harding is for maintaining and even strengthening the military power of the United States until the international situation is cleared and the question of disarmament definitely disposed of. Mr. Harding is said to foresee a period of bargaining with the great powers, transcending in importance in some respects the negotiations at the peace conference. He wants the United States to be in a position strong enough to command the advantage in these negotiations, and in this he is unquestionably right.

The proposal in congress for a naval holiday pending an international decision as to disarmament is nothing but sentimental folly. We should not interrupt our naval program for one day so long as we are faced with the possible necessity of making a separate peace with Germany and of being unable to reach a working agreement with France, Great Britain and Japan for disarmament. By the same token we should have preserved our army at the strength fixed by congress last year and as now recommended by Gen. Pershing and the chief of staff. Our military strength lies in the army as well as in the navy and while the latter is the first line and the most important of our defenses the former is the force upon which we must ultimately rely in all supreme tests.

There should have been no reversal or modification of the military policies we had adopted. Congress shut its eyes to the situation when it reduced the army to 150,000 men, but it should keep its hands off the navy. Mr. Harding's attitude seems to assure us a strong military policy pending readjustment, and that is exactly what the United States should have.

CANCELLING WAR DEBTS

Apparently the British no longer hope for the adoption of their proposal for the cancellation of all allied war debts, for in a recent public address in England Austin Chamberlain stated that the United States government (referring to the state department in the hands of the Wilson administration) had refused to consider such a step, so far as the debts of the allies to itself were concerned. The proposition has been made in this country as well as in England. It was made here on the ground that we entered the war too late to bear our fair share of the cost. The obvious answer to this is that, though we entered the war late, we spent more money than did our allies within the given period in order to do big things quickly. It may be added that we are to receive none of the large material fruits of victory that will be enjoyed by England, France and Italy, and that, though it is proposed for Great Britain also to cancel her heavy war debts, she is rich in territorial spoils which we do not share.

Under the war acts of 1917 the United States loaned nine and a half billions to its allies, the sums ranging all the way from $26,000 to Liberia to four and one-half billions to Great Britain. To France we loaned nearly three billions and to Italy more than a billion and a half. To Belgium nearly $350,000,000 and less sums, decreasing in the order named. To Russia, Czechoslovakia, Serbia, Rumania, Greece and Cuba. So far as Great Britain is concerned she should be grateful that a nation of great resources was at hand to sustain her credit and meet the enlivening demands of the war, both in men and money.

CHRONIC NEPHRITIS IN CHILDREN

Many a child is somewhat anemic, has a poor appetite, shows lack of energy, and fails to gain in weight. In some such cases the cause is unrecognized kidney disease, called nephritis or Bright's disease.

Right here let me repeat that the almanac version of "kidney trouble" is deliberate misrepresentation. Neither backache nor undue frequency or difficulty in voiding is at all characteristic of kidney disease; in fact, in kidney disease such symptoms are generally not present.

When analysis discloses the presence in the urine of albumin, together with some casts observed in the microscopic examination, we are justified in assuming that there is kidney disease. But the presence of albumin alone does not warrant that conclusion, in the case of child or adult.

An apparently healthy man of forty had been examined repeatedly by the medical examiners of life insurance companies and invariably rejected because of the presence of considerable albumin in the urine. Yet he remained as well five years after the first rejection as ever. Finally a new examiner gave him the albumin present, yet recommended the man as a good risk. The insurance company, one of the best, thereupon issued the policy, and made no mistake. The fact was that the man had no kidney disease at all. The albuminuria was orthostatic, due to conditions associated with a peculiar weak hollow-back posture. It disappeared when the man consented to remain in bed for two or three days, and the albuminuria of kidney disease does not. This faulty posture is quite common in children who have been much mollycoddled, and therefore the mere presence of albumin in the urine of a weak or sickly child may be of no serious significance at all.

It is highly important in the case of a nephritic child, as well as in adults with kidney disease, to see to it that no focus of infection, however slight, is permitted to add one straw to the burden the damaged kidneys must bear. The teeth of the child must be carefully treated by a skilled dentist and not blighted quack. Quack dentistry is bad enough for glibly adults; it is a crime to take a child to such institutions. Other possible sources of system poisoning, such as the nasal chambers, tonsils, adenoid body, ears, digestive tract, and even the skin, must be watched with special care in the child with kidney disease.

Meat once a day is not only allowable but usually essential for the well being and growth of the child with chronic Bright's disease. Meat is preferable to meat soups.

A child with chronic nephritis has a good chance to recover perfect health if intelligently cared for. Even after three or four years of Bright's disease complete recovery is not unusual.

I myself know nothing particularly about nephritis in children and certainly can give no individual advice about such cases through correspondence.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Normal Blood Pressure

Please tell me what is considered the normal blood pressure for a person 20 years old. (C. C. D.)

ANSWER—A systolic pressure of more than 135 millimeters mercury manometer is excessive for males; or more than 120 for females.

Substitute for Mineral Oil

I have been taking liquid petroleum (mineral oil) for a long time for obstinate constipation and mucous colitis. The oil of late seems to destroy what little appetite I have had for necessary "roughage." Is there any other thing which will lubricate the bowel and at the same time produce no undesirable side effects? (D. I.)

ANSWER—A rather heavy or strong flaxseed tea, suitably flavored with lemon juice and sweetened to taste, is an excellent internal lubricant for habitual or frequent use. You will have to experiment to find how much and how often to take flaxseed tea—in any case it can do no harm.

Powdered Egg-Shell

Where may I obtain the calcium carbonate to mix in equal proportions with salt in the salt cellar for family use? We wish to secure the advantages of an adequate daily ration of lime, if such advantages are to be had in this way. (Mrs. H. W. J.)

ANSWER—Powdered egg shell is practically calcium carbonate, together with a minute quantity of magnesium. You can buy calcium carbonate at the drug stores under the familiar name of precipitated chalk.

Young Germany's Chance

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—Providing food for German students in universities and technical schools, so that they can continue their educations and do their work in the reconstruction of their wrecked country is the latest of the American Friends Service committee, which has the administration of the funds that generous Americans are sending to the stricken people who were their enemies such a short time ago.

The response to the plea of the Quakers for money to be used in Germany shows how quickly the wartime spirit of hatred is dying down in this country. Probably the bitterest anti-German will admit that the children and youths did not make the war and that they must be fed and educated if Germany is to be of any future use to civilization. The students in German universities today will be the Germany of tomorrow. They will be its government, its press, its educators. They will carry on the creative work in music, philosophy and science, in which Germany has been a world leader.

Many object that it is useless for Americans to pour food and money into Germany when it is being so much more rapidly drained out by reparation demands. This may be sound in a general way, but it does not diminish the importance of saving the German students from their immediate pressing want.

We have a detailed and exclusive report from Berlin, showing just how this work is done, and how badly it is needed.

Thousands Aided

At the close of the Christmas holidays 30 of the big universities of Germany were on the budget to receive this help. The authorized number of students to benefit by this additional food is now 20,000 and this number will be increased or decreased for the spring term in proportion to the spring, financial and otherwise, which is forthcoming from England and America.

The total number of German university students today is about 120,000. The 20,000 selected from the entire student body are chosen by the Universities on the grounds of undernourishment or poverty. From a statistical survey made by student committees in all part of the country it is shown that less than one-third are receiving an income from all sources of more than 300 marks a month (about four dollars at present rate of exchange). Obviously it is impossible to provide the barest necessities of life from this income. An adequate meal in the cheapest restaurant can not be obtained for less than 15 or 20 marks and a room without heat or light will cost from 50 to 80 marks a month, at the cheapest. In addition the students' income must cover clothes, laundry, books and tuition. How many of the students exist at all is a mystery to the foreign visitor. In many universities, tuition fees are being remitted or postponed, but this cannot be a permanent arrangement.

In every university a committee composed of the rector or principal of the university, a physician and a member of the Deutsche Studentenschaft, has been appointed to select the students who are to profit from the Quaker meals. To facilitate their task of a questionnaire is filled in by all students who wish to apply for this help. These papers are carefully checked. It can be seen by looking over some of the questionnaires that in spite of many students' untiring efforts to get work which will add to their incomes this work is difficult to find, and if found the remuneration is so slight and falls so far short of meeting the needs as to be hardly worth while. Employment as tutors or in libraries or offices, which would be best for students, is the hardest to find and many young men must turn to manual labor.

A woman student who will take examinations this year for a doctor's degree works three hours a day as a charwoman in order that she may continue her studies.

Some Individual Stories
K. S., a student of law at Frankfurt am Main lives at home with his mother and younger brother of 15. Not only is it impossible for his mother to give him an allowance but he must contribute to the household expenses from his earnings. Hitherto he has not been able to eat anything at midday as he has not time to go home and the meal served at the students cafeteria was too expensive for him. He earns 250 marks a month by giving lessons and may be considered lucky to be able to earn that much. He suffers from chronic bronchitis.

A. B. is a student of political economy at Frankfurt. He is the son of a school teacher and has three sisters, 7, 15, and 21, none of whom is earning anything. As his home is elsewhere he must live in lodgings for which he pays 50 marks a month without heat and he gets his dinner at the university. The university has granted him an 80 per cent reduction of all fees. He has a monthly pension of 387 marks as a disabled soldier. A Red Cross dog leads him about for he is totally blind, has a piece of shell in his back and has lost one foot and part of the leg.

A young geological student at the University of Berlin, who was married during the war, now wishes to have two more years at the university in order to complete his course, works all night as a typesetter and is only able to have four hours sleep a day.

It is interesting to note the various kinds of outside work obtained or applied for by poor students. Aside from teaching and clerical work which is always sought, students act as guards for the police on night duty, in the Ruhr valley they work in the coal mines during vacations, and some go into the farming districts to keep alive from one term to another. In Breslau there were 104 applicants among university students for work in a factory of which only 21 were fortunate enough to secure work. In another big machine factory 80 students from the Technical High School applied for work but not more than 10 were successful.

Refugees in Germany

The cases cited are only average. Many of the young men are prevented from doing extra work by war wounds and the government pension they draw for disablement is pitifully small. The women students, too, show the result of years of poor food and insufficient comforts. Yet they are a plucky set of young people and seem determined to go through with their university work.

There are quite a few foreigners studying in all the schools—students from former German territory and from the new states of Central Europe. Their financial position is doubly strained by the adverse exchange rates and because foreigners are subject to higher fees in all institutions. Many young men from Poland and East Prussian towns, which are now a part of Poland, have come to Germany to escape conscription and service in the Polish army. Shelter from compulsory military service is indeed a new thing for Germany to offer.

The German students accept assistance gratefully, although it can be seen plainly that they do not like to accept anything which may be called charity and that they are working hard to be in a position where they can do more for themselves. However, it is the ideal behind the American Friends work and not the mere food, such as that is needed, that the students see and are glad to recognize. The students perhaps more than any other class in Germany know that what they must have is a resumption of the ordinary basis of friendship and good will between nations. In a letter from the Student Feeding Committee of the Leipzig University to the Friends office in Berlin in regard to their Christmas celebrations, the closing paragraph is significant of their spirit—"Herr Kittel took the opportunity, in a little speech about your Christmas wishes, of expressing what was moving us all, our grateful thanks for your efforts to bring about a friendly understanding among all people, at any rate in the realm of learning. We wish you great success."

THE BOOK OF DEBORAH

Ted Proposes to Deb for the Twenty-Seventh Time—A Rare Gift

Deb's car passed Bob's at the gate. I put my sad thoughts away and ran to the door to welcome her. Then I led her to Ted and escaped. Ted wouldn't miss me and Deb ought to be robbed of all her defenses. She came to me an hour later with: "I'm so glad I told him. He's wonderful!"

"Most of the girls in this town think so," I ventured. I liked to remind Deb frequently that certain very handsome young women were wild to take the man she seemed bent on refusing.

"He asked me to marry him again. I knew he would. He said weeks ago that he intended to ask me every time he saw me!"

Of course this sent me into a gale of laughter.

"And he has kept his word," Deb added.

"What a delightful romance. Debbie dear! How all the girls would envy you if they knew! It must be perfectly thrilling to have a man as attractive as Ted Moore propose every time he sees you!"

"It never did get to be very monotonous," Deb confessed. "But of course I have tried to pass it off as a joke. Ted and I have laughed at it together!"

"Deborah Burns, you're a near-vamp!" You let me ask Ted to come here simply to hear him propose for the hundredth time!"

"Oh no! I think it is only the twenty-seventh!"

"You refused—again?"

"Not exactly. First I told him that he is not, and probably never could be first in my heart!"

"My own idea, Debbie dear, is that Ted has had more than one heart affair of his own!"

"He said so. He told me that he fell in love with his landlady's daughter when he went to college. Then he had proposed to a girl when he was in the army, a girl who turned him down when she learned that he was poor. And he says that a girl proposed to him last winter!"

"Goodness gracious!" I exclaimed. Here was more romance than I had dreamed of.

She was in the same office—he told the girl it was only "propinquity." Imagine! She was furious! Never spoke to Ted afterward! But he tried to be nice, of course."

"That is the complete record of his romances? It's shorter than most," I observed.

"He says I ought not to regret the length of his list because it will end with me—whether I marry him or not!"

"Do you mean to say that you don't intend to go to South America with him?"

"How can I? Mother and father never will let me."

"Bloop!" I said so abruptly that Deb jumped.

"Ted never would propose such a thing," she faltered.

"Propose it yourself!"

"Jane, it's always easy for you to suggest the most revolutionary projects—for others to carry out," she said sweetly. "But I couldn't invite Ted to elope!"

"My dear Deborah, I'm to set Ted to thinking."

"No—you must not! you must not!" Ted has offered you the honor of wearing his name. At least twenty-seven times. That is the finest gift a man can make to a girl, isn't it?"

Deb nodded.

"My dear, I think Ted will ask you to elope about three o'clock tomorrow. And you'd better decide what you're going to say to him."

"Mr. Jim Lorimer is on the phone," said my maid to me.

Deb, upon hearing that name, colored and then paled.

UNEMPLOYMENT SENDS YOUNG MEN INTO ARMY

No more enlistments will be accepted by the United States army, according to notice received by Postmaster Gustave Keller from the Green Bay recruiting office. Men who have had one enlistment may be permitted to reenlist later. Mr. Keller is asked to make a list of all applicants for service, to be sent to Green Bay. These men will be accepted as vacancies occur. There appears to have been such a large number of recruits as a result of unemployment that the army has all the men it needs.

What To Have With Fish

What to have with fish
When fish is the main dish for dinner it's sometimes hard to choose the vegetables and dessert to accompany it.

Fish is a concentrated protein food and requires bulky foods to go with it to satisfy hunger. Brown bread rather than white bread, plain, simply cooked vegetables, any salad with a French dressing, and a fruit dessert combine well with fish.

If a sauce is served with the fish plain boiled potatoes dusted with parsley should be used. If the fish is "dry," scalloped potatoes bring the milk into the diet.

As fish is rather highly flavored an acid should be introduced into the meal to give piquancy. A tart jelly will answer this purpose if a salad that contains an acid isn't desirable.

Menu for Tomorrow

BREAKFAST — Canned pineapple, fried corn-meal mush, sirup, coffee.

LUNCHEON — Baked macaroni with cheese, bran gems, cold water cookies, tea.

DINNER — Casserole of smoked salmon, plain boiled potatoes, kale, orange salad, canned peaches, chocolate cake, coffee.

My Own Recipes

Smoked or salted fish makes a change once in a while. In the country salted fish is often the only available kind. Careful freshening does much toward the palatableness of salt fish. Many cooks make the mistake of too much freshening. Salmon needs scalding only to make it ready for use. The fact that fish is not always salted to the same degree of saltiness must be considered and the fish freshened accordingly.

COLD WATER COOKIES

2 cups sugar
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup lard
1 cup cold water
2 teaspoons soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
nutmeg

Soften butter and lard. Add sugar and mix thoroughly. Dissolve soda in water and add to mixture. Add nutmeg and put in as much flour as can be stirred in. Set aside for half an hour. Add flour to roll. Roll on a floured board, cut and bake in a hot oven.

CASSEROLE OF SMOKED SALMON

1 pound smoked salmon
4 little onions
1/2 cup canned peas
1/2 cup diced cooked carrots
1/2 cup diced celery
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon pepper
4 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup milk

1 1/2 cups dried bread crumbs
Scald salmon. Cut in pieces to serve and pour over lemon juice. Stir crumbs in melted butter. Put fish in buttered casserole, sprinkle with crumbs. Add alternate layers of vegetables and crumbs with an onion in each layer. Add boiling water to cover and cook slowly for 45 minutes. Add milk and continue baking for 15 minutes.

Adventures of the Twins

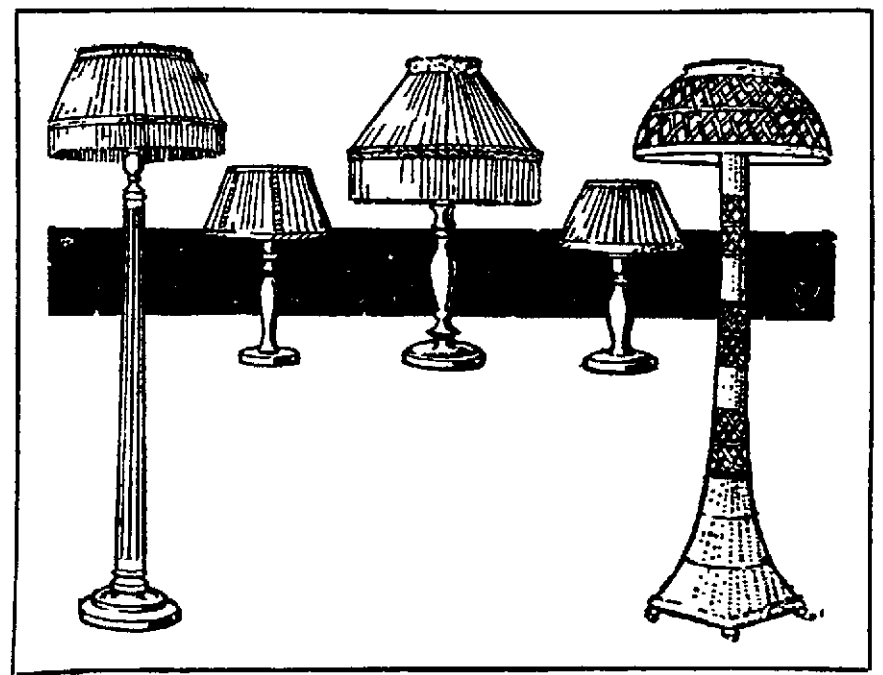

Olive Roberts Barton

"The Fish and the Eagle"
The Fairy Queen was right when she told the twins that the Robard Jinn would be after them harder than ever.

When the pelican, who was carrying them in his bill pouch toward the shore from way out in the ocean, came quite close to land, he completely forgot the Queen's warning. She had told him to carry the children safely, and to keep his bill closed tight. Whether it was because his journey was so nearly over, or because the wicked Jinn began to get in his work again, I'm not sure, but a fish appeared on top of the water, directly below where the pelican was flying, and there was trouble at once.

The pelican was getting quite hungry and as, of course, he was not allowed to swallow Nancy and Nick, the sight of that lovely, tender, dolicious-looking fish was more than human nature, or I mean pelican nature, could endure; he forgot himself completely.

Before the twins had the least idea of what had happened, they found themselves falling straight towards the waves.
But before they touched the water, a wonderful thing occurred. The fish disappeared, and a huge eagle appeared at the same instant in the air beside them. He grabbed a twin in each great claw and flew toward the land, flapping his great wings, and screaming wickedly.
But instead of dropping them in a safe place as the pelican had been told to do, the eagle continued flying toward the top of a high mountain. Up he flew, onward and upward, until the clouds were below him. The twins could no longer see the world beneath.

News of Interest From County and State

FARMERS WANT TO CUT OFF VILLAGERS

Maintain Townspeople Are Making Farmers Pay Their Tax Bills.

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison, Wis.—An interesting fight was staged before the assembly committee on state affairs Thursday afternoon between residents of the town of Knight, Iron county, and those of the unincorporated village of Iron Belt within the town, over the bill introduced by Assemblyman H. M. Mark to detach certain territory from Knight and create the town of Pay.

Friends of the bill, which included the farmers and settlers outside the unincorporated village, claimed that the residents of the village, who outnumber those of the town, thus holding the voting power of the commonwealth, run the town government to suit the desires and conveniences of the villagers and at the expense of all the people in the town; that they build no roads, except in the village, bond the town for a fine school for the village but which is too far and inaccessible to the children of the town, etc. They also claimed that the mining company owns land in the town which is of great value but is not developed and therefore but little taxes are being paid on it and that the same applies to some timber lands. They said the entire trouble would be eliminated if the village could be compelled to incorporate and thus support itself.

Opponents to the bill declared the measure was supported by a class of people who were opposed for any improvements and were trying to isolate themselves in a rich district where they could tax the valuable timber and ore lands so they would have but little taxes to pay themselves.

RED CROSS FIGHTS NEW NURSE MEASURE

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison, Wis.—Dozens of women and many men sat through the entire afternoon Thursday in the overcrowded room of the assembly state affairs committee, waiting for the hearing on the bill offered by Assemblyman J. J. Lamb, Fond du Lac county, to amend the present county nurse bill to make it optional with the county boards as to whether the county should employ a nurse. Seven other bills were scheduled to be heard before the Lamb measure and it was a tiresome wait for those who were only interested in the nurse bill, but few gave up and left before it was called.

The law as it stands at present requires every county in the state to employ a county nurse before July 1, 1921 and more than half of the counties have already complied, while several others have engaged nurses to begin their duties during the coming summer. The opposition to the present law is said to come from Fond du Lac and other counties where the Red Cross society is and has been maintaining a county nurse and the county boards are opposed to employing a nurse at the expense of the county when the Red Cross will do it for them.

At the hearing late Thursday afternoon considerable opposition was offered to the Lamb amendment by welfare workers and others who gave statistics on the work that it being accomplished in the counties where the nurses have been employed.

MORE RUM DEALERS MAY BE SET FREE

La Crosse.—Sixty men who were convicted or pleaded guilty in United States court here last month to charges of violating the national prohibition act will be sentenced by Judge Landis on Feb. 24, the last day of the present term of court.

Judge Landis plans to return to La Crosse next Monday after an absence of three weeks. Petit jurors have been notified to report. The first three days will be occupied in trial of cases.

Several defendants who last month pleaded guilty will ask permission to change their pleas to not guilty. This action is to be taken, it is understood, to give opportunity for motions to dismiss cases against defendants on the grounds that receipts were not given by prohibition agents for liquor confiscated or that agents failed to make returns in court on search warrants in some actions.

Judge Landis last month granted motions to quash indictments in several cases on these grounds.

NEW FUMIGATION RULES IN EFFECT

Use of Formaldehyde and Other Disinfectants Is Not Necessary.

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison — "Terminal fumigation" of homes following cases of communicable disease is no longer required, according to action taken by the state board of health, and health officers throughout the state were notified of the change in a statement sent out this week. The action means that the use of solidified formaldehyde, permanganate of potash and formaldehyde, or a formaldehyde spray so as to liberate formaldehyde gas in the room is not necessary.

The new rule makes the following requirements: "After a case of cholera, chicken-pox, diphtheria, influenza, measles, cerebrospinal meningitis, plague, poliomyelitis, rubella, scarlet fever, smallpox, tuberculosis, typhoid fever, typhus fever or whooping cough, and before the quarantine sign or placard is removed from the premises, the infected rooms must be disinfected under the immediate supervision and direction of the local board of health or its proper officer. The disinfection or cleaning up of the home can be accomplished by the use of approved chemical disinfectants, used as directed, or by thoroughly washing all surfaces and articles which may be infected with soap and water, or lye and water, followed by a thorough sunning or airing of the rooms.

"All discharges from the patient, including discharges from the nose, mouth and lesions, and all articles soiled by discharges from the patient in any of the diseases listed above must be thoroughly disinfected by immersing in a chemical solution of lysol, carbolic acid, milk or lime, chloride of lime, or other approved disinfectant.

"Fumigators now on hand may be used if desired.

"If the householder wishes to have rooms fumigated, there is no objection to having this done, but the material should be paid for by the householder.

"The chemicals used in terminal disinfection must be paid for by the town, village or city."

Assemblyman Peterson charged discrimination and said the assembly refused to be the "stepchild" of the senate.

ROADWORK WILL BE BOON TO BADGER UNEMPLOYED

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison, Wis.—A. R. Hirst, chief highway engineer and members of the state highway commission, appeared before the legislature in joint informal session Wednesday night to discuss the plans for the continued highway improvement and the expenditure of more than $25,000,000 which will be available this spring.

While there appeared to be some opposition to the expenditures of the vast sum at the present time, many were of the opinion that with the money available it should be used in the construction of highways to give employment to the thousands of workmen now out of employment, and many of whom have no prospect of any other employment for some time to come.

DOG IS CENTER OF ORATORICAL BATTLE

Mark Catlin Is Champion of Canine Before State Legislature.

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison—Much impassioned oratory is being concentrated on the Wisconsin dog.

He is being placed on a high plane by legislators seeking the repeal of the dog tax law and is being dramatically condemned by the opposition as man's worst enemy.

The state affairs committee of the assembly is handling dog tax legislation. At a public hearing here witnesses spoke for and against the present law with more fervor than has been exhibited on any other subject of legislation considered this session.

Dr. A. F. Alexander of the animal husbandry department of the University of Wisconsin, spoke in favor of the law. He told committee members dogs were dangerous to humans, especially to children. They were disease carriers and communicated the tape worm to young persons as well as diphtheria, typhus fever, bubonic plague and intestinal diseases, Dr. Alexander said.

Rabies, communicated almost exclusively by dogs, caused 4,625 deaths in the United States in 1911, he said.

Scotland has 7,000,000 sheep and Wisconsin 632,000. Scotland has sheep because of the dog. Wisconsin cannot have sheep because of the dog. Restrictive legislation that would force the raising of the right kind of dogs, Dr. Alexander said, was what Wisconsin needed.

Assemblyman Mark Catlin and others spoke in favor of the repeal. Catlin quoted Senator Vest's famous eulogy to the dog in concluding his argument.

WHITE LIGHTS TURNED ON MILWAUKEE UNDERWORLD

By United Press Leased Wire Milwaukee—Quiz into Milwaukee's underworld and night life loomed Tuesday when it became known that subpoenas are to be served on witnesses wanted in connection with the coroner's inquest into the death of Milwaukee's "mysterious poison girl," Esther R. Repstine, of Atchison, Kans.

She was known here as Marian Davis and Mrs. M. Conner, and died last Thursday after battling for her life for two weeks against bichloride of mercury.

Investigations have led authorities to believe she was brutally assaulted the night she took the poison and arrests may follow. This attack is thought to have led her to suicide.

The girl, who was practically unknown for two weeks, was identified by her brother, Edward R. Repstine, Minn. The body will be sent to her Kansas home for burial after the inquest Wednesday.

FREE TEXT BOOKS STIRS UP BATTLE

Madison, Wis.—Milwaukee lost its fight before the assembly committee on education against the E. H. Johnson bill providing for free text books and the fight will be carried to the floor of the assembly and if defeated there to the senate.

The bill as introduced by Assemblyman Erick H. Johnson, of Frederic, amended the old law which provided that the school board "may" provide free text books, the read that it "shall" do so in the graded schools.

The committee on education, after a lengthy discussion, following an all afternoon hearing on the bill, amended it to include the rural schools and high schools, thus making all of the schools of the state, so far as text books are concerned, free to all scholars.

The fight against the bill will now be taken up on the floor of the assembly and from present indications it will be a fight to the finish. Ordinarily the matter would be placed on the calendar for consideration Saturday, but as the assembly decided Thursday to adjourn on Saturday to Wednesday on account of Washington's birthday coming on Tuesday, an effort is being made to delay the matter until next Wednesday when it is expected all members will again be in their seats.

It headed into the ditch and became mired so deeply that two trucks were required to pull it out. The driver was unable to return to the road when the machine left the hard track.

Lives to See the Prescription He Wrote in 1892 the Worlds Most Popular Laxative Remedy

Founder of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, long past Biblical old age, but hale and hearty—Still sees patients daily—Wonderful achievement of a "country doctor."

WHEN I started to practice medicine, back in 1875, there were no pills or tablets or salt waters for the relief of constipation, and no artificial remedies made from coal tar.

The prescription for constipation that I used early in my practice, and which I put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid remedy, and I have never had reason to change it. I intended it for women, children and elderly people, and these need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

I am gratified to say that under successful management my prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that over eight million bottles were sold by druggists last year proves that it has won the confidence of mothers whose chief interest is the health of their children.

It is particularly pleasing to me to know that the biggest half of those eight million bottles were bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsin is just as valuable for grownups. The price of a bottle holding 50 average treatments is sixty cents; such a bottle will last a family several months.

I have never made a secret of what is in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. These ingredients are endorsed in the U. S. Pharmacopoeia. I consider Syrup Pepsin today in the serious 82nd year of my age, as I did in 1892, the best remedy a family can have in the house for the safe relief of constipation and its accompanying ills, such as headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and I believe if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.

REALTORS NEED MORE FAITH IN THEIR PROFESSION

R. B. Wallace Delivers Interesting Address at Convention Thursday.

In one of the most inspiring and most enthusiastically received addresses before delegates to the convention of the Wisconsin Association of Real Estate Brokers at Elk Hall Thursday afternoon, R. B. Wallace, Council Bluffs, Iowa, told realtors that they must assume a work of public service before they could be looked upon as public benefactors.

Mr. Wallace is a past vice president of the national brokers' association, and a forceful orator who holds his audience at a high tension until his last word is said. He drew applause frequently, and as he closed, his hearers rose spontaneously and cheered.

Declaring that realtors had too long been branded as thieves and profiteers in commission when attorneys were asking as much as 50 percent for handling cases, the speaker said the men had too little faith in their own minds of the scope and status of their profession.

He said one trouble with farmers was their tendency to buy oil stock, to invest in worthless lemon and orange orchards, projects to level Florida everglades and almost anything that came along. The remedy was an inducement to investors to place their money at home, right in their own farming country. The duty of their promotion should fall upon the real estate man. He quoted Iowa's motto, "Iowa, investments for Iowa investors," and the urge upon the public to keep its money at home where the investments could be looked after.

"The ideal for you realtors is public service," said Mr. Wallace. "Even the humblest of you can take part. You ought to do more for Wisconsin than any other body of men. There are too many who are unwilling to give their time unless they can see a money return. Realtors were found at the head of war work in most of our towns during the war. That was public service without the dollar mark. Your services are needed now more than ever before. You can't live in this day and age if you do a job merely for what it is worth."

"The trouble with most of us is that we want to go home at 5 o'clock, take a good magazine and sit and sit and sit. If we give eight hours to the dollar, and I don't say we should forsake the dollar service, we ought to give at least four hours to public service. You ought to set a standard so high as leaders in public service that people will say you are a bunch of men who will serve without the dollar mark. Be a believer. Get rid of the doubters."

Conditions in the lumber and building material world were described by Robert E. Goodman, Marinette, in his address Thursday morning. He said there had been difficulty in finding out what was wrong with the lumber market. A Chicago conference revealed that each group of dealers in materials was blaming the other for the condition and expecting him to cut.

He mentioned Eau Claire's move by which labor was reduced from $1 to 75 cents an hour. "All materials will be cut soon, he said, and it is then up to the realtor to get busy on home building. He must show the banker that it is up to him to do his part. Money is not tight, he said, it is timid."

It would be good business and a distinct service to spread broadcast through publicity the reason for having the Wisconsin Association of Real Estate Brokers and what it means to the people, said L. M. Fowler, Racine, in his address on "Advancing Applied to Real Estate." The realtors should sell the association itself and then start a home ownership campaign. Safety of land contracts should also be advertised, he said.

F. D. Haddock, Cornell, spoke concerning The Ayrer report on schools in the United States, in which Wisconsin was listed as thirty-third on the list. He showed the error of the report in placing Wisconsin in this position, because her standards were much higher than portrayed. He as-

REAL SHOWDOWN OF LEAGUE STRENGTH COMING SATURDAY

Little Chance for State Ownership Bill to Pass Either House.

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison, Wis.—The strength of the Non-Partisan league in the legislature will be disclosed definitely for the first time when the joint resolution of the Assemblyman Stephen S. Stokowski, Milwaukee socialist, is taken up for consideration. The resolution provides for a constitutional amendment to permit the state to acquire and operate storage houses, warehouses and grain elevators. It is practically the same resolution as has been offered at practically every session since the last socialist came to the legislature, but for the first time has been recommended for passage by the assembly committee on state affairs. Heretofore the resolution has always been killed in committee.

The state affairs committee, is composed of Assemblymen A. E. Matheson, who was absent when the resolution was considered, Luther M. Rose, land, T. W. Barrington, Fred Hess, C. E. Hanson, John Gump, John Verkuilen, J. E. Johnson, Leander J. Peterson, August Beversdorf and Stephen S. Stokowski.

The socialists and Non-Partisan league hope to pass the measure in the lower house, but it is said to be slated for death if it ever reaches the senate. On the other hand members of the assembly who claim to be progressive but opposed to the Non-Partisan league, declare the measure will never pass the assembly, that it will be fought to a finish and if necessary a call of the house will be raised to bring every member back to vote on the question which is expected to be placed on the calendar for Saturday morning.

"I think the majority of the members of this legislature are conservatively progressive," said an old member of the lower house today, "and I believe that we will have little trouble in passing most of the measures advocated by Gov. Blaine in his message. They are progressive measures which are sound and would improve conditions if judiciously administered, but I think no radical socialist or Non-Partisan measure will stand a ghost of a show in either house. We've got to have a show-down with the Non-Partisan league sooner or later and personally I believe the quicker we establish the fact that the majority of members are opposed to radicalism but firm for progressive measures in the interest of the people, the sooner we will be able to get down to work in earnest."

seried that realtors and the public should not be stampeded into a lot of additional taxes for schools just because of this report. This is not the time to conduct a building program, he said.

O. E. Hawk, Youngstown, Ohio, was unable to attend because of an important taxation conference in the Ohio legislature. His absence was a disappointment, as his address on the real estate outlook was anticipated as a message of authority.

He mentioned Eau Claire's move by which labor was reduced from $1 to 75 cents an hour. "All materials will be cut soon, he said, and it is then up to the realtor to get busy on home building. He must show the banker that it is up to him to do his part. Money is not tight, he said, it is timid."

ESTABLISHMENT OF RURAL CREDITS IS TASK FOR REALTORS

H. A. Dohlenpach Declares Federal Reserve Banks Stabilize Business.

Establishment of rural credits and development of the wonderful resources in Wisconsin are the most important tasks confronting the Wisconsin Association of Real Estate Brokers according to H. A. Dohlenpach, Milwaukee, president of the Investors Finance corporation in an address before the convention here Thursday afternoon. Mr. Dohlenpach pledged himself to establishment of a credit system and urged the cooperation of realtors. He said loan sharks and wildcat lenders should be driven from the state and the money they take should be retained in Wisconsin for her development.

"If we are to be optimistic let us be sanely optimistic," Mr. Dohlenpach said. "The world is starving for what we produce. It is our task to organize to meet this need. The cry of a hungry world should be a challenge to us to do our best."

Mr. Dohlenpach declared America has suffered panics because the people expected them. In others years a change in the administration of national government always was followed by a financial panic because the people expected it. Last year one of the greatest political upheavals in history occurred without causing the flicker of an eye lash, all because the people did not look for a panic and consequently there was none.

Splendid Bank System
The federal reserve bank system was described as one of the greatest achievements of the age and its stabilizing influence has kept the financial ship on a straight course.

"I don't care what your political belief may be you must give credit to Woodrow Wilson and William Gibbs McAdoo for putting over this wonderful financial system," he said.

"The American dollar is the only currency in the world which is worth what it says it is. We should realize our blessings instead of magnifying our difficulties. We have come from the pie counter of five years' of profiteering and expect this big business to continue. Let us now prepare for the better and bigger business which soon will be our share."

Farm securities were declared to be the best and safest in the world because of the inherent honesty of the farmer. He urged real estate men to work with their banks to secure long time as well as short time credit for their farmers.

"Farming is the largest and least organized business in the world," Mr. Dohlenpach said. "It is your duty to take care of the interests of these men for on their prosperity depends your prosperity and the prosperity of all of us."

Mr. Dohlenpach discussed the great export corporation now being organized under the Edge act and suggested that it receive the support of all business men. A great export trade, however, is not possible unless there is great production so the first duty is to stimulate this production. Credit must be extended to foreign buyers if a market for American products is to be found.

There is no danger that foreign countries will not pay their debts to the United States, Mr. Dohlenpach declared. The peasant farmers of Europe are as honest as American farmers and will make good their obligations.

Orpheus Four
At the San Francisco exposition the prize of $3,000.00 was offered to the best male quartet or chorus.

The Orpheus Four Male Quartet, which is to appear here on the evening of Monday, Feb. 21 at Lawrence Memorial chapel carried off the grand sweepstakes at the Frisco Exposition, and won this International Grand Prize. Since then this Quartet has been generally known as America's premier organization.

It is the official organization of the Orpheus club of Los Angeles. It is an organization of splendid musical artists who have beautiful individual voices. It is an organization whose ensemble work is as near perfection as it is possible to be. The wonderful phrasing, tonal shading and delightful melody combinations is a musical treat long to be remembered.

Many members of the Board of Directors of Appleton's Community Lecture and Artist Series feel that this quartet will be one of the best liked programs. A large house is expected Friday.

"HOUSEWORK A JOY!" SAYS MRS. MORRIS

I am now able to do my own housework and feel like a different person thanks to Kozak," said Mrs. Pauline Morris, 1204 High-st., Wisconsin Rapids, Tuesday. "I was in a terribly run down condition, always feeling tired and depressed but unable to sleep. My appetite was very poor and what I did force down refused to digest, causing gas to form. I became very weak."

"I tried numerous medicines without getting relief until Kozak was recently introduced here. One bottle of Kozak fixed me up. I eat heartily of everything, sleep soundly and my tongue, which was always coated, is now clear as a crystal."

Kozak, the Master Medicine, sold by Schlitz Bros. Drug Store; Kaukauna, Kaukauna Drug Co.; New London, Spearbraker; Hortonville, Gitter; Neenah, Marsh; Seymour, McCord.

SHEBOYGAN DEFIES STATE HEALTH BODY

The common council went on record against installation of a chlorinating apparatus in the municipal waterworks, ordered by the state board of health by March 15. Though aldermen signed a committee report favoring the installation, two socialist aldermen reversed themselves at the meeting and defeated the committee report. The report and resolution called for installation of the chlorinating plant as a temporary measure and directed the city officials to investigate any other system which would purify the water without use of chlorine.

A majority of citizens apparently is against use of the chemical, though the typhoid fever epidemic here is unabated.

MARTINSON IS HILL'S NEXT OPPONENT

HUGE CHICAGOAN MEETS HILL HERE NEXT WEDNESDAY

Local Grappler Begins Work for Most Important Match of His Career.

Paul Martinson, a native little 215 pound Chicago boy with a string of victories a yard long, will be the next man to fool around with George Hill's headlock. Announcement was made late on Thursday that the big Swede will wrestle here Wednesday evening, Feb. 23, in Army G. This match undoubtedly will be the biggest and most important of the season. Martinson's record qualifies him for a place among the greatest grapplers in the country. He has met them all and has won a great majority of his bouts.

Several years ago the Swede got a lot of publicity by putting away Yussif Mahomet, the big Hindu grappler who set America afire with his work. Martinson pinned the big fellow, one of the mighty few Americans who were able to do the trick.

Hill realizes he has a real job on his hands and is preparing himself accordingly. Despite a bad infection in one of his eyes, due to cold, he is training rigorously, spending several hours on road work to improve his wind. Hill figures the match may go a long time and he wants to be in good condition. He will be outweighed by at least 40 pounds.

Hill is cancelling two or three matches in order to confine his work to Appleton. A victory over Martinson would put Hill in the class with the best in the country regardless of his weight handicap. He is striving for reputation now and is willing to accept smaller purses until he is securely fixed in wrestling's galaxy of stars.

STRONG WILL HELPS WOMAN LIVE 100 YEARS

By United Press Leased Wire. Bloomfield, N. J.—Mrs. Irene Cocke celebrated her one hundred and second birthday here Tuesday by reading the newspapers and knitting a washcloth.

Mrs. Cocke, who outlived her husband and three children, attributes her long life to regular habits, hard work and temperance. "I enjoy life," she said, "and want to live as long as I can. I have always been strong willed and determination enabled me to fight pneumonia two years ago."

INDICTED PRISONER IS WORRYING OFFICIALS

(Special to Post-Crescent) New York—Officials are wondering whether George Graham Rice is trying to taunt them.

Rice is under a three-year sentence, imposed following conviction on a charge of larceny. But he's out on $25,000 bail pending a rehearing.

In the meantime officials of the district attorney's office have been receiving literature from him, advertising a new mining venture, and offering large gains to investors in the "Broken Shaft Mine."

When last heard of Rice was said to have opened an office in San Francisco.

Detectives have been detailed to check up on him. Indictments are said to be pending against Rice, ranging from larceny to assault.

MARTIN TACKLES TOUGH CUSTOMER

Army Champion Gets Real Chance When He Meets Bill Brennan Tonight.

By Henry L. Carroll. By United Press Leased Wire. New York—Young Rob Martin, of West Virginia, got the habit of knocking 'em over when he met up with the Germans a couple of years ago. He's been knocking 'em over ever since.

Martin has been in eighty nine battles and he has won seventy eight of them by knockouts.

Bob struck to the trade he learned in the army when he got back to private life and for two years he's been "knocking 'em over" in the stocks. Under clever management he walked up the backs of setups and trial horses until he is now ready for the big bid.

Knowing he was a "good card," Tex Rickard had been after Martin for months to get him into Madison Square Garden. Bob's manager had never shown a tendency to send his boy against anything hard so when Rickard finally got to talking business with them, he asked them who they wanted.

Martin nearly knocked the promoter off the chair when he asked for one of the toughest men in the heavy-weight class—Bill Brennan.

They are meeting Friday night for five rounds.

Brennan is a five to three favorite in the betting. If Martin beats Brennan he will be entitled to a match with Dempsey and that's what he wants.

UNCLE SAM LOSES TO JAPANESE DIPLOMATS

Washington—A "joker" in the draft of the Japanese mandate for Yap Monday threatened to defeat the American stand for internationalization of that island as a cable landing station.

This government's delegates to the conference of five powers preliminary to the international communications conference have insisted that Yap be open to all nations as a cable landing station. The conference resumes Tuesday and the United States will again make known its insistence.

The Japanese delegates, opposing this, are said to have pointed out that the laws of their country provide that all cables landed on Japanese territory form a government monopoly and that the foreign ownership of land is prevented.

Sugar was introduced into America by the Spaniards in 1520.

Work Will Be Started in Spring on Structure in Big Ravine.

The building will be located on the north side of College-ave, immediately adjoining Edward Mauer's tailor shop. It will contain all modern improvements and work upon it will be commenced as early in the spring as possible. Mr. Stadler owns an additional lot in the ravine about 40 feet further west on the same side of the avenue.

Representative Gould of New York, has a resolution asking a further accounting on the ground that the two statements issued were not itemized. Republican leaders, however, would like to get the information without passing such a resolution.

GASOLINE PRICE DUE FOR ANOTHER DROP SOON

By United Press Leased Wire. Kansas City, Mo.—Further cut in price of gasoline was thought probable here Monday by independent oil producers. Crude oil prices have declined 50 per cent within a month and is now selling at $1.75 a barrel. On January 24 it brought $2.50. The decline in the price of gasoline has not approached the proportion of the crude slump and it is for this reason further gasoline price reductions are expected.

You Don't Have to Wait Always on Tanlac to Set You Straight, Declares Milwaukee Man After Trying It.

"One thing I can say for Tanlac, and that is you don't have to wait always for results," said Edward George Kelber, who lives at the corner of 48th and State Streets, Alois, Milwaukee, Wis.

"For ten years I suffered so bad from indigestion I never ate a meal without having severe cramping pains afterwards. Even the lightest kind of diet caused gas to form and bloat me up till I could hardly breathe, and my heart would beat like a trip-hammer. At times I became so dizzy I had to knock off work and rest a bit, and hardly a day went by when I didn't have a bad headache. I also had such

LAWRENCE WILL BE IN NEW CONFERENCE

Local College Will Compete With Best Small Colleges in Middlewest.

In all probability the Little Eight conference comprising some of the leading colleges of the middle west will materialize. Plans now formulated call for a meeting of the colleges at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, sometime in May. The occasion will be a track meet between the colleges of Beloit, Knox, Coe, Cornell, Carleton, Lawrence, De Paur, and Washburn. Coach McChesney, said Lawrence will endeavor to send representatives to the meet and in his estimation, Lawrence will undoubtedly join the proposed conference. This means that Lawrence is rated among the leading colleges of the middlewest. While the football schedule for next season is now complete it is possible that the new conference schedule of the Little Eight will be prepared for the gridiron schedule in 1922.

The new conference will mean much to the western colleges. "I expect," Lawrence, as well as other colleges have contests scheduled that are with schools in which there is no glory or from which little recognition is received because of the contest. With the new conference, goes a new rating of the schools entering in it. They are in a class by themselves, gained only through reputation.

SPORT FANS ARE TOO DEEP FOR RICKARD

Can't See Why Fans Rap Big Boxing Purse and Swallow Baseball Yarns.

New York—Tex Rickard can't get through his noodle why the public picks on the commercial side of boxing and lets other sports ride along on high finance waves unscathed.

"You didn't hear 'em roar very loud when they paid $150,000 for Babe Ruth," says Tex.

"Nobody in New York objected to the Giants' offer of $300,000 for Rogers Hornsby. In fact, they hoped it could be put through because it might have meant the pennant.

"There was no hullabaloo about the big earnings of Man 'o War, either. But the minute Cochran, Brady and myself stepped out with a half million dollar purse for a Dempsey-Carpenter fight they hollered their heads off.

"Meanwhile boxing is enriching the state treasury.

"I've turned over $200,000 to the state in taxes in the six months I've had the Garden.

"Last year the taxes on the Madison

CHARGES HATFIELD ADMITTED MURDERS

By United Press Leased Wire
 Williamson, W. Va. — Sid Hatfield admitted 15 minutes after the battle of Matewan last May that he killed three of the Baldwin-Felts detectives. Harry Staten testified in the Matewan killing trial Friday.
 Staten, a former Matewan justice of the peace, said Hatfield came up and shook hands with him near where three victims lay in the street. "I killed three of those men—Albert Felts, Lee Felts and Cunningham," Staten quoted the young police chief as saying.
 Hatfield and eighteen others are on trial for the murder of Albert Felts and six other detectives in the fatal fight in which ten men were killed last May. Staten explained his presence on the "battlefield" by saying he had been advised the mayor and six other citizens were killed.

EVEN EXCHANGE IS NO ROBBERY, OFFICERS SAY

 Washington—High democratic officials about to leave Washington, are taking the White House furniture. The matter has not been reported to the police though, because the furniture taken is being replaced. It is the custom to allow each retiring member to take the high back leather upholstered chair in which he sat at cabinet meetings if he replaces it with a new one. Several of the secretaries have indicated they wish to do this.
 Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state, has asked for his chair, as has Secretary of War Baker.

HATFIELD TOOK BLAME FOR MINE WAR SLAYING

Williamson, W. Va. — Newspaper clippings were introduced Thursday by the prosecution in the Matewan battle trial in an effort to prove Sid Hatfield, in interviews with newspaper correspondents, took responsibility upon himself for the fatal fight with Baldwin-Felts detectives last May.
 One interview quoted Hatfield as saying it was a question of "kill or get killed."
 Another alleged interview quoted Hatfield as charging the detectives intended to "clean up Matewan."
 Hatfield and 16 others are accused of the murder of Albert C. Felts, detective, in the revolver clash which cost ten lives May 19.

 otic fervor and left a lasting impression on those who heard it. Commented one witness, "upon those who aided their country in the hour of danger, but the speaker had only contempt for those who failed to support our soldiers at the front."
 Ballard was denounced in even stronger terms than Deml for his activity in preventing Deml from subscribing for his allotment of Liberty bonds as he had promised to do when visited by the committee. Deml was met while on his way to town to buy bonds by Ballard, who persuaded him to commence an action against certain members of the committee. In the afternoon he took him to Capt. Fred Heinemann's office and later to the office of Mark Catlin, district attorney, for a warrant.
 In his arraignment of the two Attorney Martin frequently directed his flood of condemnation directly at them and emphasized his remarks by pointing his finger at them. Only once was he interrupted by Attorney Cochems who appealed to the court for the protection of his client. In laying the foundation for his argument Attorney Martin went quite fully into the former trial dismissed by Judge A. H. Reid of Wausau.
 The intensity of the situation was relieved momentarily during the latter part of the address by an incident in which Attorney Kolinski figured. Attorney Martin turned his guns upon him and had scarcely gotten his range when the young attorney walked over to the tank, drew a glass of water and placed it on the table before his adversary. A suppressed smile swept over the audience.
 Attorney Cochems, representing the plaintiff, closed the case. He too proved himself an orator of no mean ability and held the closest attention of spectators. He opened his argument with a severe attack on Attorney Martin for his arraignment of his client and said that he had never heard anything to compare with it in any court during his 20 years of practice.

BRITAIN PINS ITS FAITH ON PREMIER

By United Press Leased Wire
 London—Premier Lloyd George was given a vote of confidence Friday by a vote of 181 to 40.
 The vote came on a motion to amend the king's address implying criticism of the premier's post war policies.
 The parliament had before it the government's views on unemployment. They were expressed by Premier Lloyd George in a speech Thursday night.
 International trade, the premier declared, is the basis for Britain's existence and this is now at low ebb.
 Bankers must help, he said, by extending credit to impoverished continental countries in order that trade may revive. This will ease unemployment, he said.
 Action to compel Germany to meet allied demands will be taken if necessary, the premier told the house of commons Friday.
 "Women of the United States can bring a strong public sentiment behind the committee for strict enforcement," he said.
 "They are the moral leaders of any community in a general way. Their influence, when exerted, is tremendous."
 At the same time Kramer warned women bootleggers that they need expect no leniency if caught violating the law. His office now is working for the conviction of some feminine whiskey runners, said to have operated with a boldness and deftness that surpassed the efforts of their male associates.
 Women frequently ride as passengers in cars used for whiskey running, Kramer said. Their presence is supposed to divert suspicion, he said.
 Kramer has received reports that in many cities women by hundreds joined in liquor parties and revels during which large quantities of intoxicants are swallowed. Police records bear out the reports, he said. Girls under 20 were reported to have been caught in police raids on such gatherings.

ASKS WOMEN TO HELP MAKE AMERICA DRY

By United Press Leased Wire
 Washington—Federal Prohibition Commissioner John F. Kramer Thursday appealed to American women to help enforce the Volstead act.
 "Women of the United States can bring a strong public sentiment behind the committee for strict enforcement," he said.
 "They are the moral leaders of any community in a general way. Their influence, when exerted, is tremendous."

REFUSED INTERVIEW BY FORD, NEWSMAN DROWNS

Detroit, Mich.—M. Henry Potter, editor of the Little magazine "Facts," published in Philadelphia, may have been drowned in River Rouge while attempting to interview Ford for an interview according to the belief of deputy sheriffs investigating the editor's disappearance.
 Potter disappeared from his hotel here Sunday. H. A. Hamhill, one of Henry Ford's private chauffeurs, told police Friday that Potter was on the Ford estate at Dearborn Sunday attempting to see the motor king. Being told by Hamhill that he had no chance of seeing Ford, Potter said, according to the chauffeur, "I'm going to see Henry Ford if I have to swim across the River Rouge to do it."

RATHER SPEND LIFE IN JAIL THAN PAY FINES

Canton, Ohio.—An open invitation to membership in the "lifers' club" was sent out today by the seven chart members confined in the county jail here.
 Membership is restricted to men convicted in Ohio courts for violation of the dry laws.
 The "lifers' club" was organized by men fined $1,000 or more who prefer to serve out the time in jail to paying the fine. The members are working out their fines at the rate of sixty cents a day.
 John Saint, Canton, is president of the club. He was fined $2,000 and it will take him nine years to make his accounting with the state. Saint will graduate May 8, 1923.
 Saint promises prospective members a "pleasant time, a comfortable home and fine companionship."
 Prof. R. F. Bell, who has been teaching in Milwaukee for the last two months, has returned to his home in the town of Grand Chute.

The STAGE

Mutt and Jeff
 Those two ubiquitous purveyors of fun, mirth, melody and song, Mutt and Jeff, are soon to be in our midst again. Manager Gus Hill, their sponsor, announces that these wonderful and ever-popular comedies will appear in a highly-seasoned, lively and screamingly funny musical comedy in three acts and bearing the title of "Mutt and Jeff at the Races." In this piece, which has a host of melodies and a score above the average, the pair will have every opportunity of figuring in escapades and situations sure to keep the tide of fun, hilarity and mirth going at a steady and ceaseless ebb. Naturally, Mutt and Jeff quarrel. What would their existence be without some mutual feud? But as their quarrels are between themselves and as good Samaritans are not expected to interfere we feel sure, and can almost say with certainty, that everything is eventually righted and that the olive branch of friendship is extended at the finish. This latest sensation of real wit, joy and happiness is underlined to play an engagement at Appleton theatre Feb. 22.

DR. WOOD WILL DISCUSS BLUE LAWS SUNDAY NIGHT

"Shall We Take The Sun Out Of Sunday?" will be the subject of an address to be delivered by Dr. L. B. Wood at the Methodist church next Sunday evening, in which he will discuss the much talked of "blue laws." There is a great deal of controversy all over the United States at the present time as to whether laws should be passed that would prohibit recreation and amusement on Sunday, also as to how far prohibition can be carried in a free country. These matters will be frankly discussed by the speaker. The meeting commences at 7:30 and the public is invited. A fine program of music has been prepared.

WIFE AND SIX CHILDREN LEFT BY SUICIDE VICTIM

Faribault, Minn.—After bidding farewell to his six small children, Ole Nygard, farmer living north of here, stopped out on his back porch early Friday and blew off the top of his head with a shotgun. His wife, who was milking in the barn, failed to hear the shot.
 When she returned to the house she all but stumbled over the body. She is hysterical as a result of the shock.
 Dependancy over ill health is believed to have prompted Nygard to take his life.

FEAR TRAVELERS WILL BRING IN TYPHUS GERMS

New York. — Passengers arriving here Wednesday from Boston, where they landed Tuesday from the steamship Canopic, were forced to undergo a rigid examination before being allowed to enter the city, because of the fear that they might be typhus carriers.
 The health department has established stations at all railroad terminals and coastwise piers to examine suspects.

A resolution for the establishment of an exchange to bring the farmers and consumers together was adopted.

It is planned to list all farmers and all cooperative stores. Consumers are invited by the committee on direct trading to organize and establish receiving stations that can be reached by intercity truck systems and the parcel post. Labor unions were requested to finance temporary receiving posts until complete plans for permanent posts and stores are established.

A FREE BOOKLET ABOUT PRENATAL CARE

Here is the most sacred trust ever placed upon a woman. She responds to it instinctively, but not always wisely. Her responsibility begins long before her child is born and is not relinquished until after she dies.
 What to do before the baby comes is the mother's vital question. Upon its answer may depend the life or death, the health and happiness of the infant as long as it lives. The mother may not know she may make mistakes that mean tragedy.
 But all the time there is the best information in the world ready for the asking. The Children's Bureau has made that information available to all mothers.
 Our Washington Information Bureau will secure a copy for any one who sends two cents in stamps for return postage.

HAGEMAN SPEAKS
AT FARM MEETING

New Library System Is Installed in County Training School.

W. F. Hageman, principal of Outagamie County Training School, was a speaker at the closing session of the Farmers Institute at Black Creek Wednesday evening. "Some Things Needed in Education" was his theme. The things needed in education, according to Mr. Hageman, are cooperation of parents and teachers, better trained teachers, better school equipment and better organized parent-teacher associations and consolidated schools.

Reorganize Library

The class in library methods is making a complete reorganization of the training school library. New pockets are being posted in the books. A new charging system will be installed as soon as the books are ready. The present inefficient method caused considerable trouble. Books would disappear for several weeks at a time only to show up again with no one responsible for them.

Beginning with the installation of the new system, students will act as librarians. That method will not only keep a check on the books but it will give the future teachers experience in handling their school library when they begin teaching.

Tuesday, Feb. 22, Washington's birthday, will see an interesting volleyball tournament in the Outagamie County Training school. Last Friday during the weekend program, a challenge to a match was formally issued by the Aurelia society of the school and the Lincoln society accepted it.

Under the tutelage of W. P. Hageman, principal of the school, the girls are becoming quite expert at keeping the ball out of their territory.

Miss Mildred Carter gave a talk Thursday morning at the training school during the general assembly period. Her topic was "Dress." She told what different forms of dress were required for different events. She explained how inappropriate dress often caused embarrassment and trouble to the wearer.

The teachers have been putting every minute of spare time toward preparing the event and hope parents will show their interest in the work of their children by turning out.

The proceeds of Monday evening's motion picture show at the Bijou theatre will be turned over to the "Womans' Relief corps. The schedule of meetings has been changed. Instead of holding a meeting twice a month only one will be held. The first Friday evening of each month will be regular meeting night. Odd Fellow hall is being used.

Several other stories by Mrs. Willis were read and discussed.

FOX CLUB WHIPS
KIMBERLY QUINT

Kaukauna Basket Stars Grab One Point Victory From Mill Team.

The Fox club basketball team won from Kimberly-Clark by one point in a game Thursday evening in the auditorium here. The outcome was in doubt till the very last minute. Kimberly was playing hard for a basket that would give her a one point lead until the final whistle blew. The score was 18 to 17. Kaukauna players were never more than two baskets head of the visiting team, and only twice were they that far in the lead. Kaukauna seemed to have a shooting streak. Kimberly took almost three times as many tries but all were from an impossible distance out on the floor. Boettcher, Kimberly forward, got away with a lot of individual playing, but he spoiled quite a few scores by taking a long shot at the basket when one of his men was nearer and uncovered.

In the last seven minutes of play there was an exhibition of fast playing. With only one point difference in the score, a basket would win the game. Kimberly ran ahead a few times, but in the last few minutes Kaukauna dropped in two baskets and Kimberly was able to get only one more before the whistle blew.

The lineup: Kimberly—Johnston and Boettcher, forwards; Doer, center; Clark and Bishop, guards.

Kaukauna—McDonald and Waterpool, forwards; Hess, center; Renicke and Brenzel, guards.

Mulford's Loss
In the preliminary game Kimberly-Clark second won from Mulford's Clothing team 14 to 4. Most of the regular Mulford lineup was missing, and the Kimberly-Clark fellows had easy pickings.

Mrs. W. C. Nelson of Appleton, will leave for Manitowoc Friday to visit her sister Mrs. M. T. Skowlund. Mrs. Bertha Hausmann has returned to Milwaukee, after spending the last few weeks in this city visiting relatives.
